2. The Out Games - Liza Performs I Can See Clearly Now/I Can See Clearly, What Did I Have, Cabaret, New York, New York
3. Liza & Goldie Together - 1980 I really loved this special when it was shown on CBS. What really sticks out in my mind was the segment on the Broadway musical, "Chicago", which was done very well and also the dramatic segment about two close friends watching their friendship disintegrate over a man. Too bad it did not win the Emmy Award for Outstanding Variety or Music Program, but that year, there were 5 worthy nominees and since only one could win, the cards fell in another direction

Disc 14
1. Baryshnikov On Broadway 1980 - If you add Mikhail Baryshnikov's dancing to Liza Minelli's singing what do you get? In this case, a 'Best of Broadway musicals', sort of... I liked it, but then, I'm biased because I've been a Baryshnikov fan for as long as I can remember. In this show the biggest Broadway dance numbers get the ballet treatment, but Misha also shows he can handle the lighter stuff.
2. Sam Found Out Triple Play 1988 - Rather perplexing ABC-TV special featuring Liza Minnelli in three different impersonations, in stories all built around the plot conceit that "Sam...found...out!" The bit with Liza playing a hooker and Ryan O'Neal as her vicious pimp is terrific--very dramatic and gritty. But the romantic segment with Louis Gossett, Jr. and a pet pooch is painfully slack. Liza somehow managed to sneak this special into her tight schedule which had just included two theatrical movies, a TV-movie and a ton of concerts. It doesn't tap into her full-range, as it is supposed to, but at least it gave Liza-watchers something extra to feast on.

Disc 15
Frank, Liza & Sammy: The Ultimate Event 1989 Live In Japan - Frank, Liza & Sammy is a 90-minute show that combines great singing, entertaining choreography, dancing, humor and witty dialogue and features more than 30 memorable songs. Audiences are mesmerized by the experience of seeing talented performers paying tribute to these legends and performing "My Way," "Cabaret" and "Mr. Bojangles" with good old fashion warmth and sincerity.

The show opens with thrilling duets where Sammy and Liza execute intricate dance steps in "I Gotta A Lot of Living To Do" and Frank displays his usual charm with Liza in "The World On A String". The individual performances highlight each artist singing the songs made famous by the legends and the final part of the show features all three performers singing a medley of some of the most popular songs of our time.

The whole experience is enhanced by the camaraderie and interaction of these great performers together on stage. The witty dialogue adds a lot of humour to the show, especially when a reluctant Sammy, the only performer on stage not to have recorded the song "New York, New York", is convinced to sing it as the grand finale.

The friendship, love and respect that existed between these legends is captured throughout the show and makes Frank, Liza & Sammy a moment to remember!

Inside The Actor's Studio

Disc 21
Stepping Out - Stepping Out is a 1991 musical-comedy film directed by Lewis Gilbert, starring Liza Minnelli, written by Richard Harris and based on a play also written by Harris. Minnelli plays the role of a has-been Broadway performer who teaches tap lessons to a group of misfits who, through their dance classes, bond together and realize what they really can achieve. All the actors who play the awkward students are established theatre performers.

Disc 22
The Sterile Cukoo 1969 - Pookie Adams (Minnelli) is an oddball, quirky teenager who meets Jerry Payne (Burton) on a bus heading to their colleges, which are near each other, where they have enrolled as freshmen. Jerry is straitlaced and stiff, and their different personality types conflict, though an intimate relationship develops between them.
